New Digital City Unit

- In April 2019, the new Digital City Unit within the City of Leipzig started its work. The local Triangulum team was initiating the development process and is now part of the unit.
- It is a competence centre for digitisation projects within and for the city administration as well as external stakeholders such as enterprises, civil society and science.
- The unit has an interface function between the municipality and its subsidiaries (public utilities and other enterprises).

Urban Data Platform

- Leipzig will set up an urban data platform based on the existing geo-data-infrastructure.
- In 2019, a concept for the platform will be elaborated by city administration together with the public utilities (water works, public transport, power supply).
- Financing will be secured by the city's own budget, budget from public utilities and EU-funding through the project EfficienCE.
